Dear Parents,

Summer Vacation is a welcome break.....

Break from fixed schedule, rules & regulations. Summer Vacation is all about fun, frolic, getting up late in the morning, playing for longer hours with friends, going for picnics, exploring new places and watching your favourite shows on television.

Here are some steps which will help you to give your child core values for life:

1. Teach your child to wait for their turn to speak and not to interrupt when you are speaking. Make sure that when you are done, you give the child your full attention. Children learn by seeing, so show them to respect others by respecting others, yourself.
2. Set the table for a family dinner, using proper dishes and cutlery. Place the forks on one side of the plate, and the spoons and knives on the other. Add a napkin and a glass, and place them in their proper position. Use the proper utensils as needed, as well as the napkin. They will follow your lead and will make you proud when you take them out to eat at a fancy restaurant.
3. Tell them the most important table manners a lot of times: Napkin on the lap, elbows off the table, and not to eat with your mouth open.
4. Teach your child to say 'thank you' by having them hear you say it. No matter how young they are, never forget to say 'thank you' to them each time they hand you over something, even if it is their bottle.
5. Always say 'please' each time when you ask something from your child . Children learn by what they see and hear by their parents. A hug and kiss by you, will make sure that they always remember to say that word.
6. Take Permission. If you want to borrow something, don't just help yourself . Ask permission and make sure you return whatever you borrow in the same or better condition.
7. Stay calm. Each time you start yelling or losing your temper, you may lose a little of your child's respect.
8. Teach your child to take compliments courteously by saying 'thank you' at appropriate times. Children copy what they see and hear, so make it a point always to use those words.
